I. Workshop on Natural and Human-Induced Hazards and Disasters in Africa (21-22 July)

The International Council for Science, Regional Office for Africa (ICSU ROA), in collaboration with the Geological Society of Uganda (GSU), IUGG's Geo-Sciences Initiative in Africa (GIA/IUGG), Integrated Global Observing Strategy (IGOS), UNESCO Regional Office for Africa, is organizing a two-days International Workshop on "Natural and Human-induced Hazards and Disasters in Africa" on 21 – 22 July 2007 in Kampala, Uganda. The conference will mark the launching of the ICSU ROA science plan on Hazards and Disasters in Africa. The workshop will be followed by the EARS (07) conference on 23 – 25 September 2007 and a field excursion on 26 – 29 July 2007.

The aims of the workshop are:

- To drive the implementation of the ICSU ROA Science Plan on Hazards and Disasters in Africa, as well as the Hazards and Disaster-related objectives of UNESCO, IGOS, GIA/IUGG, GSU and other Geo-Unions operating in Africa.
- To ensure that new scientific knowledge is used to develop efficient hazard mitigation strategies in Africa.
- To promote networking among groups and organizations working in the field of Hazards and Disasters in Africa.
- To assess the need for developing educational materials on Hazards and Disasters, and prompt South-South cooperation for new initiatives in Africa.
- To stimulate and facilitate participation of African scientists in the UN-proclaimed International Year of Planet Earth (IYPE).

To enable a broad-based consultation and dialogue ahead of the workshop, ICSU-ROA is mapping current activities of individuals and organizations working in the research, development and education fields concerning natural and human-induced hazards and disasters in Africa. The aim is to build a cross-boundary network to facilitate current and future initiatives. To this end, please forward your current activities to the following email: genene.mulugeta@falw.vu.nl or genene.mulugeta@balticuniv.uu.se and copied to a.enow@icsu-africa.org
